RIDICULES M'KINLEY. Mr. Bryan at some length paid his respects to President McKinley's announcement of the intention to hold the Philippine islands, and said it was the first announcement of a President of the United States against the spirit and doctrine of the Declaration of Independence. In referring to the President's declaration that Congress would provide for the government of the islands he said: "You should substitute Parliament for Congress and revert to the time when the colonies asked recognition of King George." He ridiculed the claim that we had a right to the islands because we had purchased the islands from a discredited monarchy, and averred that we could not buy the Philippines after arming them to fight Spain. He then touched on the silver question as a matter of vita interest to the people as a whole, and urged the reaffirmation of the Chicago platform. There was a good crowd at Fulton, and Mr. Bryan spoke from the rear platform, as did Candidate Goebel and Mr. James Blackourn. "You can do some pretty good yelling here, but I want to tell you if you will elect Mr. Goebel Governor and Joe Blackburn senator, there will be more yelling in Ne braska than we have here. Plenty of Live Cattle. WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.-In a private letter received from Manila one of the officers of the commissary department there makes the important statement that with opening of the present campaign it will be possible to secure all of the live cattle necessary to send forward with the various columns operating from Manila. He says that cattle can be secured from Singapore and Tien-Tsin within ten days of cabling, and that there is an abundance of native beef of very satisfactory quality to be found in the islands south of Luzon. In addition he observes that it is not likely that any arm of the service except the cavalry will be called on to operate very far from the railroads, as Aguinaldo himself must stick comparatively close to the railroad line to prevent trespassing on the territory of his old enemies, the hill tribes, of whom he stands in quite as much fear as he does of the American troops.

The feature of to-day's session was the delivery of the allocution by Grand Commander Thomas H. Caswell, of California, who, reviewing the year's work, called atprevails in the order's fraternal relations with all legitimate supreme councils of the world. He said the rite generally was never to-day, and suggested some plan for estabbodies of the rite where none now The returns show, he said, only about 10,000 perfect members in good standing on the rolls, though there are 340,000 master Masons in good standing within the territory comprising this great jurisdiction, 330,000 of whom are not Scottish Rite Masons. Their accession to the ranks was urged. The grand commander presented the question whether Porto Rico shall become a part of the Masonic territory of the Southern or the Northern jurisdiction and suggested its territory belonged to the South ern, if the latter chose to assert its claims, He thought, however, the Porto Rican brethren themselves should be left to decide which allegiance to give.

NEW YORK, Oct. 16 .- The will of the late Cornelius Vanderbilt will not be offered for probate or made public for several days, probably not before next week. Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt, who recently returned from China, and spent Sunday with his mother at Newport, came to the city to-day. Great indignation is egmalities to be complied with in connection with filing the will and some other incidentals that would cause delay and it was agreed to postpone the probating of the will for a few days. It is necessary to have William K. Vanderbilt here, and as he is off on a yachting trip nothing can be done unti he returns. It is not believed he will be back before the end of this week or the first of next week.

GEN. SHAFTER'S REPORT

WORK OF THE DEPARTMENTS OF CALIFORNIA AND THE COLUMBIA.

The Recruiting and Drilling Camp at the Presidio of Great Benefit to the Government.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16 .- The War Department to-day made public the report of Maj. Gen. William R. Shafter, commanding the Department of California and of the Columbia. The Department of California, General Shafter says, required very little attention owing to the small number of troops quartered. The bulk of the work in this department pertained entirely to the transmission of stores and the shipment of men to turning from there. General Shafter says the men in the recruiting camp have been systematically and thoroughly instructed in their various duties with especial attention to target practice. They have shown themselves industrious and anxious to perfect themselves in the use of their weapons. . He further says:

"There can be no doubt of the wisdom of establishing this camp and giving to recruits a preliminary course of instruction here. Another advantage in keeping the recruits in this camp is that it has enabled the medical department to weed out men unnitted for such service. A considerable number of these have been found. Had these men been permitted to go to Manila they would have broken down there and if they had survived they would have been a tax upon the hospital department and ultimately would have been sent back sick, sick and discouraged, and the effect of their return upon the recruiting work throughout the country would have been unfavorable. By getting rid of them at the very outset they may return to their homes in fair condition at least."

A considerable number of horses, purchased in the department, have given entire satisfaction and General Shafter says that they are cheaper, considering the cost of their transportation, than horses purchased in the East.

He recommends that so long as any large body of troops remain in the Philippines the recruiting camp be continued at the Presidio, and that as a rule the troops be congregated there and drilled for at least three months before shipment. Colonel Forwood, chief surgeon, in his re-port to General Shafter notes the establish-ment at Honolulu of a hospital for the care of soldiers going to and returning from the Philippines. The first hospital established there was one of forty beds. It was opened under authority of the department by the surgeon of the First Naw York Volunteer Infantry in November, 1898. It was locate in the suburbs of Honolulu, but it was soon found that it was inadequate for the wants of the garrison and the sick from the ing transports, so a site was rented at Bu-Vista Park, and a hospital of one hund beds has been opened there with ample sup plies, in charge of Major M. W. Wood. The capacity of this hospital can be materially increased by the erection of tents in the

The explor with the mere statement that certain companies were detailed to this duty. Regarding the labor troubles in the Cou 'Alene, he merely mentions the fact that n response to the call of General Merriam Department of Colorado, detachments of troops from the Columbia were sent to Idaho, but soon returned and are now on duty at their home posts.

> "Whether the next President of the United States is Democratic depends some-what on what you do in Kentucky this year. Four years ago, or rather three years ago, Kentucky did not help the Democratic party to any great extent. I believe the people voted better than the country counted. I am not sure but what we carried the State, but I am sure we did not Democratic in 1900. If the State goes Republican this fall it may be difficult to carry it next year. You will encourage the Republicans and discourage the Democrats if you try to divide the Democratic party. You cannot whip the Republicans by dividing the Democratic party in two. You cannot do it. Do you realize that upon the triumphs of 1909 great questions depend? Do you realize what the Republicans will bring to this country? Do you realize that this party is placing the dollar above the man, that this party is encouraging the wealthy and debasing the man? Do you

The largest crowd of the day was met at Mayfield, Mr. Bryan and Mr. Goebel were the speakers, the former delivering an elaborate speech. "I may face in all direc-tions on this platform, but I do not on the county in the State and that I had more than three thousand majority, but the apbelieve this crowd came out to indicate what they will do for Goebel and the rest of the ticket. To-day I shall accept it as evidence of a larger majority for Goebel than that of 1896, and I shall rejoice if it is am glad to come to Kentucky. It is he skirmish line of 1900. From Princeton, Ky., the special diverted to Hopkinsville, a distance of thirty miles reaching the following points: Frankfort, Versailles, Lexington, Mount Sterling. Richmond and Stanford. The party will remain over night at Stanford, coming to Louisville on Wednesday.

Judge James P. Tarvin, when asked regarding Bryan's appearance in the State in behalf of the Democratic ticket, said: "The coming of Mr. Bryan into Kentucky will have substantial and good results. His personality will arouse enthusiasm among Democrats and his conservative utterances will tend to bring men of intelligence and character, who are dissatisfied, to second thought. Even those who believe that a wrong has been committed or that Senator Goebel is not all that he ought to be, must see that their remedy is worse than the disease they claim to exist. It cannot help anything to defeat the election of a Democratic United States senator and endanger the election of William Bryan to the presidency. Senator Goebel ought to be elected, and all believers in the Chicago platform ought to vote for him."
